

What is epilepsy?

1 in 100 persons have epilepsy...
do you know what it is?

Epilepsy is a hidden condition which may result in seizures due to abnormal activity in the brain.

Seizures usually last for a few seconds or minutes.

70% of persons with epilepsy have their seizures controlled with the medicines available.

Thus, persons with epilepsy can live a normal life.

X'inh l-epilessija?

Persuna minn kull 100 f'Malta
għandha l-epilessija...taf x'jiġifieri?

L-epilessija hija kundizzjoni li ma tidhix,
fejn iseħħu aċċessjonijiet minħabba
attività mhux normali fil-moħħ.

L-aċċessjonijiet normalment idumu
għal ftit sekondi jew xi minuti.

70% tal-persuni bl-epilessija,
jikkontrollaw l-aċċessjonijiet permezz
tal-mediċini.

Dan ifisser li jistgħu jgħixu
ħajja normali.
